

Name	BYI-II (BECK YOUTH INVENTORIES)
Purpose:	Self-reporting scale for assessment of self-image as well as mental and social issues in children and adolescents
Short description:	BYI-II is a scale for the assessment of self-image as well as psychological difficulties in children and adolescents. The scale is administered as a questionnaire and consists of five subscales covering five different areas or psychological constructs
Academic area/skills:	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Self-image: The sub-scale for self-assessment contains test leads that deal with, among other things, the child's / youth's view of their own abilities, skills and drive. • Anxiety: The sub-scale for the assessment of anxiety and worry contains test leads that deal with, among other things, the child's / adolescent's school situation, own health and anxiety for the future. • Depression: The sub-scale contains test leads that address, among other things, the negative thoughts of children and adolescents about themselves and their own lives, feelings of depression and hopelessness as well as somatic reactions. • Anger: The sub-scale of anger assessment contains test leads that include feelings of being unfairly treated, negative thoughts of others, and physical reactions associated with anger. • Normal-breaking behavior: The sub-scale for the assessment of norm-breaking behavior and behavioral problems contains test leads that deal with, among other things, bullying, serious breaking of the rules and the tendency of the child / youth to blame others for their problems
Target group:	7–18 years
Survey method:	Individual or group (self-reporting)
Standardization:	Norwegian norms
Adapted/non-adapted to Norwegian conditions:	Norwegian manual and Norwegian norms
Published:	2 nd edition, Norwegian edition, 2012
Author:	Judith S. Beck, Aron T. Beck, John B. Jolly & Robert A. Steer
User groups/user qualifications:	Authorized psychologist, doctor