Summary

We made some changes to the course autumn 2022 based on our experiences from 2021 (hybrid course). First of all, we shortened all lectures down to either 30 or 45 minutes. We also decided to have a course with only physical attendance and no digital participation. This worked very well and contributed to focused discussions and presentations.

Overall, participants seemed very happy with the course. The student evaluation from 2022 shows that all who responded found the course literature, teaching and course activities to be very relevant. They were also happy with the feedback they received, information provided in Canvas and during the course and their own efforts. Several participants also wrote in Canvas and via email that the course was great and very useful.
